Curriculum Vitae

Mathias Schulze

1996—2001	PhD (Language Engineering), UMIST, Manchester, UK
	dissertation: Textana—Grammar and grammar checking in parser-based CALL[1]
1985—90	Diplomlehrer für Deutsch und Russisch, Pädagogische Hochschule Leipzig, Germany, 1990 (MA equivalent with K-12 teaching qualification for German and Russian languages and literatures including courses in developmental and learning psychology, education theory, language-teaching methodology)

Employment

2017—	Co-director, Principal Investigator of the Language Acquisition Resource Center, San Diego State University, USA
2017–	Professor of German and European Studies, San Diego State University, USA
2017–20	Adjunct Professor of German (Research), University of Waterloo, Canada
2015	Guest professor, Universität Mannheim, Germany
2015—18	Affiliate researcher, Waterloo Institute for Complexity & Innovation, University of Waterloo, Canada
2015—17	Professor of German (promoted 1 July 2015), University of Waterloo, Canada
2009—17	Director, Waterloo Centre for German Studies, University of Waterloo, Canada
2006—15	Associate Professor of German (tenured 1 July 2006), University of Waterloo, Canada
2001—06	Assistant Professor of German (appointed 1 Sept 2001), University of Waterloo, Canada
1995—2001	Lecturer in German Linguistics and CALL, UMIST, Manchester, UK
1992—95	Lecturer in German, Manchester Metropolitan University, UK
1991—92	Part-time Lecturer in German, University of Sunderland, UK

Awards

2015 and 2010	Outstanding Performance Award, University of Waterloo
1990	Diesterweg Prize for outstanding achievements at a teacher training college
1989	Herder Medal in Gold for outstanding achievements in Russian language and linguistics

Research grants (selection)

2017	Canada Foundation for Innovation: Language Interaction Laboratory (principal investigator)
2017	SSHRC Insight: Language learning processes revisited: adaptive instruction in technology-mediated contexts (co-investigator)
2015	UW SSHRC: Ergonact: Language learning processes in technology-mediated activities
2015	OBW Faculty Research: Accumem—Acculturation and memory: A corpus-linguistic study
2015	DAAD/German Academic Exchange Service: Guest Professor Universität Mannheim
2014—15	LITE: Geroline—Students' learning trajectories in language courses on campus and online
2014—16	WCGS and German-Canadian Education Fund: Germans of Waterloo—Oral History Project (principal investigator)
2010—14	SSHRC SRG: Scaffolding and individualized instruction in CALL (co-investigator)
2009	LIF: Estila: Engaging students through increased language awareness (principal investigator)
2007—10	SSHRC SRG Learner variability and student modeling (principal investigator)
2005—06	SSHRC conference grant German diasporic experiences (co-applicant)
2004—05	UW/SSHRC Language maintenance and use among the KW German-speaking minority (co-investigator)
2004—06	UW/SSHRC 4A Developing learner language structures in online education
2003	UW/SSHRC Computer-aided analysis of grammatical errors
2003	LTI WatPAL—Reducing learning time and increasing student learning with learning designs (principal investigator)
2002	LTI Geroline learning impact study (principal investigator)
2001	Wes Graham Fund Geroline—Research and development of elementary online German courses (co-investigator)
1999	UMIST: Development of a postgraduate degree program in CALL
1990—92	State of Saxony (Germany) Doctoral Research Scholarship
